

The Charles Blow Show.

Race, politics, and power in America — in conversation.

A daily independent political show: a sharp midday read and an evening conversation with the people shaping the news.

INCISIVE · PRINCIPLED · WARM · UNFLINCHING · LITERATE

THE SHOW

☐ Lunch Break Live

~10 min · daily, midday, live

A tight, live read on the day's biggest story — reaction in real time, audience in the room.

☐ The Evening Show

~20 min · daily, evening

A deeper conversation with a high-profile guest — the people and ideas behind the headlines.

☐ The Daily Dispatch

daily, email

The column-grade take, distilled — what happened, why it matters, what to do with it.

WHO IT'S FOR

Politically engaged adults who want to understand the day, not just feel angry about it — readers of opinion columns, NPR/PBS listeners, Substack subscribers, YouTube-news watchers. Job to be done: make sense of race, politics, and power today, from someone they trust.

THE PROMISE

We leave you equipped, not anxious. Every day ends on “What now?” Editorial, not cable-news loud. Confident, not cold — a serious independent newsroom a person actually wants to read.

Host: Charles M. Blow (DRAFT — verify bio & confirm authorization before publishing)

VOICE & ANTI-REFERENCES

DRAFT v1 — verify facts; numbers illustrative; secure host approval before publishing.

Plainspoken and precise — the smart friend at the table, not a lecturer. Warm authority; say the quiet part; end on “What now?”

Not: cable-news loud · cold corporate/SaaS · partisan campaign · loud podcast-bro.
